OEM and ODM

- Model selection or brief review. Share target market, product type, estimated quantity, package plan, and any benchmark product.
- Sample and specification discussion. Confirm available models, materials, finish direction, flow expectations, and packaging requirements.
- OEM/ODM development. Use existing models for faster projects or develop appearance, internal structure, 3D samples, and molds for ODM.
- Pilot confirmation. Check samples, assembly details, water test results, packaging, labels, and shipment plan before mass production.
- Mass production and inspection. Run injection, finishing, assembly, water testing, leakage checks, flow checks where needed, and final packing.

Commercial notes

- MOQ ranges from 500 to 2,000 units depending on the model, finish and packaging: existing catalog models in a standard finish and standard packaging can start from about 500 units; a logo print or a color change typically from about 1,000 units; custom packaging, custom colors or new cartridge configurations from about 2,000 units.
- Appearance design about 15 days, internal structure about 15 days, mold about 60 days, production about 30 days. Actual timing depends on complexity.
- Custom packaging is discussable from about 2,000 units, the top of the MOQ range, depending on packaging type and order structure.

Quality checks

- Incoming parts. Visual and dimensional review of key parts and supplied components.
- Full water test. Finished shower heads are checked with water before packing.
- Leakage check. The 100% water test before packing doubles as the leak check and normally runs at 0.5MPa.
- O-ring inspection. O-ring supply and inspection can include visual checks from the supplier side.
- Flow test. Flow can be tested under 0.3MPa factory conditions for selected water-saving specifications.
- Packing check. Packaging, labels, quantity, and carton condition are reviewed before shipment.

Procurement documents

- Product specification sheets
- Existing model catalog references
- Water test and leakage check notes
- Flow test discussion for selected specifications
- Packaging and label requirement review
- Shipment and carton check notes

How to read a model entry

Model code	The code to quote in an RFQ. Case-insensitive on the website and in the API.
Descriptor	Product type and dominant colour, read from the catalog photo.
Colours / Finish / Filter / Spray / Features	What the catalog photo shows. Dimensions, flow rate and materials are not published here — ask for them with the model code.
URL	The model page, which carries every catalog photo of that code and a plain-Markdown twin at the same URL + index.md.

REST API over the same data for clients that do not speak MCP: GET </api/models>, </api/models/{code}>, </api/categories>, </api/features>, </api/facts>, </api/faq>, </api/topics> and POST </api/rfq/prepare>. Its OpenAPI 3.1 description is at <https://www.ningboware.com/ai/openapi.json>.

Have a photo instead of a model code?

Send the picture to steven@ningboware.com. Every model page on the website describes its catalog photo in words — product type, colours, finish, head shape, handle, spray face, visible features, filter type — so a photo can be matched against the catalog and answered with the closest model code, or with an OEM/ODM route if nothing matches closely enough.
